

Data protection at Eurojust:

A robust, effective and tailor-made regime

Diana Alonso Blas

If you would like to receive this publication, please contact the Data Protection Office at Eurojust: DataProtection@eurojust.europa.eu

About the author: Diana Alonso Blas, LL.M. in European Law, has been the Data Protection Officer of Eurojust since November 2003. Previously, she worked for two years at the Data Protection Unit of the European Commission and four years as Senior International Officer with Peter Hustinx at the Dutch Data Protection Authority. In that capacity, she participated as member of the Consultative Committee to Convention 108 and the committee that drafted the Additional Protocol to the Convention as well as to the Article 29 Working Party and various of its subgroups. She started her career in 1994 at the Center for Law and Information Technology of the University of Leuven and spent one year at the Belgian Data Protection Authority with an expert contract. She is a Spanish national and has published many articles and reports in the field of data protection.